

The True Hail Mary Project

By Dr. rer. nat. habil. Norbert Schwarzer

Question as Introduction

Have you seen the Movie Project Hail Marry with Ray Goslin?

The Intrinsic Enemy/Parasite

Well, the educated (not necessarily academically, this means) and informed (definitively not mainstream, that is) reader does know of course, that mankind doesn't need an external enemy to eradicate itself. Stupid wars, poisoning the planet, migration policies or plandemic-scams and corresponding mega-dim but quite effective (counting the death toll) so-called vaccination programs totally suffice to achieve that goal.

Understanding is the Key

To save humanity—or rather, to guide it through the bottleneck of its own stupidity—it seems entirely sensible to understand it.

But...

The unfortunate thing about this necessity is that, during the process of gaining insight, the parasitic elements within the fabric of humanity are automatically identified and presumably eliminated.

Thus, consistently enough, these very elements have absolutely no interest in a genuine understanding of what is termed socio-economic space-time.

This may be the reason why efforts to establish a genuine socio-economics remain limited, and why seemingly excellent models—such as that of M. Armstrong—landed their developers in prison.

So, we do not even want to know what awaits those who seek to build an ideology-free—and thus neutral and truthful—systems theory of human societies upon a fundamental and universal framework [1, 2].
